

Distillery visits will get you into the Christmas spirit

Holyrood Distillery is the new whisky and gin distillery at St Leonard's, the city's first since 1925, and they now have a range of hour-long tours for you to try.

The distillery has a Tasting Bar, a gift shop which sells festive gifts as well as the developing range of spirits created on site. And there's more...

This week you can join The Edinburgh Sketcher Workshop on 11 December, a sketching and painting session which includes a flight of drinks.

Next week there is a Wreath Building Workshop on 17 December, with designer and candle maker Laura Thomas, creative director of Laura Thomas Co.
