

Leonard outlines Labour's plans for the health service

Richard Leonard was at Edinburgh's Royal Hospital for Sick Children this morning to highlight the risks to our NHS and he outlined Labour's plans to invest in and revive our health service.

9th December 2019 – Scottish Labour Leader, Richard Leonard, at the Sick Kids in Edinburgh to highlight the risks to the

NHS and outline Labour's plans to invest and revive the health service. PHOTO Thomas Brown

9th December 2019 – Scottish Labour Leader, Richard Leonard, at the Sick Kids in Edinburgh to highlight the risks to the NHS and outline Labour's plans to invest and revive the health service. PHOTO Thomas Brown

Leonard said : "We are the only party which is putting forward a democratic solution to the chaos of Brexit.

"We will invest an additional £2 billion a year in the National Health Service in Scotland and that will lead to a significant increase in support so we can fill those GP vacancies – the consultant vacancies which are across Scotland will be filled.

"It means that we can start to look at what we can do to expand the National Health Service instead of it being constantly under pressure."

9th December 2019 – Scottish Labour Leader, Richard Leonard, at the Sick Kids in Edinburgh to highlight the risks to the NHS and outline Labour's plans to invest and revive the health service. PHOTO Thomas Brown