Hibs are confident of scoring against Kilmarnock when the clubs meet at Rugby Park in the Ladbrokes Premiership tomorrow.

Christian Doidge has scored 14 goals in 18 matches whilst new on-loan signing Marc McNulty has hit the ground running with four in the last two games.

A defeat would see Hibs drop into the bottom six, but Jack Ross's assistant John Porter believes that Kilmarnock will see Hibs as an attacking threat.

Speaking ahead of the game Potter said: "If you've got players who score goals and you've got a team with goalscorers in it, you go into games thinking we are going to score goals.

"I think other teams will look at us and think we are a threat going forward as well.

"It's important we keep supplying the strikers with chances because if we do that, we think they will score.

“Fans come and want to see goals, they want to see you creating chances, being on the front foot

“We have tried to do that in the main since we came in. It’s not always been the case but we do try.

“That happened the other night and if we continue to do that then hopefully we will keep people happy.”
