

Firefighters tackle blaze on Arthur's seat

Firefighters are currently tackling a large fire on Arthur's Seat.

Emergency services including two fire engines and three police cars are in attendance

The cause of the fire is not known at this time.

A Scottish Fire and Rescue Service spokesperson said: "We are currently in attendance at a fire in the open at Arthur's Seat, Edinburgh.

"Two appliances are on scene and crews are working to make the area safe."

