

The Royal Highland Show 2020 has been cancelled

The organisers of The Royal Highland Show have already taken a decision to cancel this year's event.

It is usually a focal point in the summer calendar for farmers across Scotland who come to Edinburgh to show all kinds of livestock, buy machinery and meet old friends.

The message has been put up on the show website today after a virtual meeting of the directors.

It is with deep regret that we announce the cancellation of the 2020 Royal Highland Show.

The decision was taken today following a virtual meeting of the RHASS directors and is in line with Government guidance surrounding the recent outbreak of Coronavirus.
