

Edinburgh news – live from the capital

This is the week when Scotland begins to get back to business – from queues outside shops, and everyone on public transport wearing masks, we will update you here.

We will also bring you news about the coronavirus numbers when they are announced each day,