

Art exhibition – Scottish Ornithologists Club

This group exhibition brings together work by Emily Ingrey-Counter, Helen Kennedy and Liz Myhill.

All three are established wildlife artists based in Scotland.

They have worked along-side each other for some time and go on working trips together to draw the landscape and wildlife. The work in this exhibition is the result of such trips to the Isle of May, St Abb's Head and the RSPB Mersehead Bird Reserve, as well as work developed independently closer to home.

In addition to the work displayed at Waterston House, the three artists have contributed additional work to the Online Art Shop, see www.the-soc.org.uk/online-shop.
