

Making a Grand entrance – The Register Club is back

The Register Club on the fourth floor at Cheval The Edinburgh Grand on St Andrew Square is reopening on 1 October 2020.

The cocktail bar will be serving all the innovative cocktails the bar is known for, but it is Afternoon Tea at Cheval The Edinburgh Grand which will be their big new thing. Starting from £28 pp and a champagne afternoon tea at £38 we are promised these will be very special, including homemade scones, jam and sweet treats with a savoury selection created from the finest Scottish produce. The Billecart-Salmon Brut Réserve might make your outing feel even more luxurious.

The cocktail bar, lounge games room and snug are all interlinked with a different atmosphere in the daytime which seamlessly becomes a night time venue. The new look food and drinks menu includes light bites, nibbles, Scottish sharing plates with dishes such as haggis bon bon, baked taleggio, ox cheek and stout pie. Small plates from £4 and larger ones at £12 upwards.

Cocktails such as Fifty-Fifty martinis and Singapore slings along with a selections of whisky based cocktails start from £9.

General Manager of Cheval The Edinburgh Grand, Gavin MacLennan said: "We're incredibly happy to begin reopening our food and beverage offerings at Cheval The Edinburgh Grand from Thursday 1 October. One of life's most enjoyable pleasures is to share delicious food and drink around the table in the company of family and friends.

“The Register Club has been missed by both our team and our guests and we are very excited to welcome everyone back as well as introduce a delicious new afternoon tea menu”.

Cheval The Edinburgh Grand has introduced a host of stringent new hygiene and cleaning protocols and social distancing measures, in line with government advice – without ever compromising on the elegance and luxury for which the luxury serviced apartments are renowned.

Afternoon Tea will be served between 3.00PM – 5.30PM from October 1st 2020. Please visit The Register Club website for opening times. Booking for Afternoon Tea is now open, <https://www.theregisterclub.com>

- Twitter: @RegisterClub
- Instagram: @theregisterclub
- Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/theregisterclub/>

