

Pizza and cocktails delivered to your doorstep

Civerino's Food Club and Mothership (founders of Edinburgh's Bramble, Lucky Liquor and Last Word bars) have joined forces to bring world class cocktails and 'out of this world' pizza to the safety and comfort of your home and officially launching this weekend.

The two independent Edinburgh businesses, Civerino's and Mothership – Maker's of Tasty Liquor are collaborating to offer the best of the city's cocktails and pizza for Edinburgh residents to enjoy in the safety of their home. Choose from an ever-changing menu including some of classics as well as bespoke specialities designed and created especially for Civerino's.

You can add to your Civerinos Slice order through the Civerinos Slice app. Prices start at £5. The cocktails will be delivered in their own popcorn lined and branded box from Mothership which you just need to chill and add ice to enjoy alongside the pizza. Available to order for home delivery exclusively through the Civerinos Slice app, website and over the phone directly from Civerinos Slice in Edinburgh.

Mothership is excited to be working with Civerino's to bring delicious cocktails straight to your door. Jason Scott, co-owner of Mothership drinks online retailer and co-founder of Bramble, Lucky Liquor and Last Word bars said: “For us this is about collaboration – doing cool stuff with cool people and sharing our passion for great food and great cocktails with our local community.”

Michele Civiera, owner of Civerino’s restaurant collection said: “I’m a huge fan and have so much respect for Mothership. Their bars really are some of the best in the city. I couldn’t think of a better Edinburgh brand to team up with to offer our pizza and their cocktails to enjoy at home.”

Civerino’s Food Club is unique in the city, and well known for their Italian street food, New York style wood fired pizzas and secret classic family recipes passed down through generations. The restaurant collection operates from three locations throughout the city – the original Civerinos on Hunter Square, Civerinos Slice on Forrest Road and The High Dive on St. Leonard’s Street with news of their latest opening coming soon.

Mothership is an online drinks retailer, proud producer and bottler of Scottish spirits and liqueurs, consultancy and events co-ordinator as well as owner and operator of some of Edinburgh’s finest bars – Bramble, Lucky Liquor and The Last Word. Bramble has regularly featured in the Top 50 Best Bars in the World list and has been named Best Bar in the UK.
