

Police seek help to trace missing woman who may have been sighted in Edinburgh

Police in Glasgow are appealing for help from the public to trace 32-year-old Nafisah Rehman who was last seen last Friday in Drumchapel.

Enquiries to date have established possible sightings of her in Edinburgh.

A Police Scotland spokesperson said: "Nafisah was reported missing from the Raploch Avenue area on Friday, 27 November, however there have been possible sightings of her in Edinburgh since that date.

"Anyone with information is asked to call 101 quoting 4145-27/11."
