

Happy New Year!

As we have no fireworks or Midnight Moment this year to watch and ooh and ahh at, our photos are from previous years.

We wish you and yours a very Happy New Year.

For some this can be a lonely moment, but this year at least you can be assured that you are not missing out on a big party as these are all a thing of the past. If you are still up in a few hours then you can watch the festivities in Times Square in New York – where they have gone ahead but without an audience. The webcast will be streamed free for anyone to watch on Facebook Live video at facebook.com/timessquarenyc

Wherever you are stay safe and take care of each other.
