

Fridays are virtually the weekend at Scottish Arts Club

The Scottish Arts Club (SAC) have gone online and invite you along.

Tune in for “Virtual Fridays – arts events that you can enjoy from the comfort of your home. Each Friday at 6.30pm SAC provide both their members and the public with a musical event or an online art exhibition. This could be a photo-film or in a more traditional gallery style.

Links to the events will appear in the individual listings on their website and on their social media platforms.

You might also be inclined to donate to their Performers’ Fund.

The Covid-19 lockdown has left many artists without any income due to closed venues and cancelled performances.

To donate and support the performers participating in the ‘Virtual Fridays’ series, you can do so via the JustGiving page or email administrator@scottishartsclub.com for details on how you can help.

5 March: Dimitri Malignan’s “Missing Voices”
