

Minute's silence observed by LNER staff in Edinburgh

Owing to the continuing lockdown there were no formal observances of the minute's silence today, but LNER staff stopped to recognise those who died from Covid-19 during the last year.

LNER staff marking the minute's silence one year on from the first lockdown. Video courtesy of LNER