

Hibs' pair called up for Scotland Under-21 squad

Hibs' pair Josh Doig and Daniel Mackay have been named in Scot Gemmill's Under-21 squad for a friendly double header against Northern Ireland next month.

The games take place on Wednesday 2 June, KO 3pm and Saturday 5 June, KO 2pm.

The head coach has named a 24-player squad for the matches, with only Brian Kinnear, Lewis Mayo and Glenn Middleton remaining from the previous squad named in October 2020.

Both matches will take place behind closed doors at the C&G Systems Stadium in Dumbarton and provide Gemmill with a valuable chance to get the youngsters back on the pitch ahead of the 2023 UEFA European Under-21 Championship qualifiers getting underway in September.

Athletic Bilbao striker Ewan Urain is among the new faces, receiving his first Scotland call-up.
