

#SP2021 – Election results Day One

After the first day of results, there has been little in the way of the unexpected so far.

The only constituency where there was a gain was Edinburgh Central where the SNP's Angus Robertson won with a convincing majority, taking the seat from the Scottish Conservatives. It was former leader, Ruth Davidson who won it last time with a slim majority of 610 votes.

Here are the new MSPs so far:

Alex Cole Hamilton Edinburgh
Western – 25,576 votes majority of 9,886

Daniel Johnson Edinburgh Southern –
20,760 votes majority of 4,022

Angus Robertson Edinburgh Central –
16,276 votes majority of 4,732
