Fringe hit comedian comes to The Brunton

After his critically-acclaimed Edinburgh Fringe show, Thunderjab 3, Midlothian-based, Scottish comedian and writer, Eric Davidson, brings his unique style of humour to The Brunton this Autumn.

Over the last few years, Eric has been a regular at the Edinburgh Fringe and his uproarious poetry and musical parody have had audiences spellbound.

His satirical wordplay is boosted by his hilarious and, at times, poignant anecdotes.

Eric says you are in for a wonderful evening's entertainment. He added: "I'm bringing topical stories, poems and songs to the Brunton and I'm thoroughly looking forward to appearing in Musselburgh."

Thunderjab material gets an outing along with memories of growing up in the former Midlothian mining village of Newtongrange.

Eric now lives in Pathhead and enjoys success on the comedy and corporate circuit.

So, Eric Davidson at The Brunton, Musselburgh is on Thursday, 4 November (7.30pm). Tickets are £15 (£13) and can be purchased in advance at www.thebrunton.co.uk, t: 0131 653 5245

Fringe Review [][][][][][]

Sinners Review [][[][[][][][][][]

Edfringe Review □□□□□□□□

Theatre and Arts Review □□□□□□□□

"Eric Davidson commands attention" Edinburgh Evening News