

Winter Windows now open all over the city

This year's Winter Windows part of the Christmas events organised by Edinburgh's Christmas with the support of the City of Edinburgh Council's department of Arts and Creative Learning have been unveiled.

There are 38 colourful festive designs created by schoolchildren across the city and turned into vibrant stained-glass masterpieces for everyone to enjoy.

The windows have gone on display over five locations across Edinburgh including the City Chambers Quadrangle, Granton, Gracemount, Duddingston and Balerno, spreading messages of festive cheer.

Edinburgh Christmas Winter Windows, City Chambers
The overall winner of the competition chosen by the Rt Hon Lord Provost is Jackson Lobban(below), a P5A pupil at St

Peter's Primary School. All winning entrants were invited to receive their awards at a special reception at the City Chambers on Thursday evening.

Overall winner Jack Lobban with the Rt Hon Lord Provost Frank Ross – Edinburgh Christmas Winter Windows, City Chambers
This year's Winter Windows are inspired by the theme of "Connections and Kindness" allowing Edinburgh's school children to reflect on the connections made and kindness that they have received and shown throughout the pandemic. Participants were encouraged to create their entries using sustainable, up-cycled materials.

Edinburgh's Christmas has organised Winter Windows since 2014 aiming to encourage and inspire creative talent in local young people. The designs are on display until 4 January 2022.

Edinburgh Christmas Winter Windows, City Chambers

Edinburgh Christmas Winter Windows, City Chambers

Edinburgh Christmas Winter Windows, City Chambers