

Who will win the Champions League according to betting sites

When it comes to football in Europe, the Uefa Champions League is the pinnacle of achievement that any club can ever aim for. The competition is revered by all and sundry, even beyond the shores of Europe. It is one of the most-watched competitions globally, and as such, many people worldwide get to wager on the tournament. Thankfully, lots of reputable top football betting sites provide people with the opportunity of gambling on their favorite football teams in the Uefa Champions League. Apart from betting on a match outcome and similar options, there are also several other alternatives that you can bet on. For example, you can place a wager on the club you feel will likely win the competition.

Like most betting options, guessing the team that will win the Uefa Champions League is not an easy feat at all, as there are loads of factors you will have to put into consideration. These include the quality of players each clubs have, the current form of the teams, fixtures, etc. However, even after doing this, you may still find it challenging to know who the tournament's eventual winners will be. For instance, all bookies and most people tipped Manchester City to win the competition in the previous season. Surprisingly, Chelsea, whom everyone had written off in the early stages of the competition, ended up becoming the champions.

Photo by Janosch Diggelmann on Unsplash

Who Will Win This Season's Champions League?

According to the bookies, who most likely would have done all permutations and considered all factors, the following teams are deemed favorites to win the competition for the 2021/2022 season.

1. Manchester City: As stated earlier, Manchester City was also the favorite to win the competition last season, but they lost to their fellow English team, Chelsea, in the competition's final. Not much has changed since then, and as such, they are still the favorite to win this season.

Hopefully, their coach, Pep Guardiola, has learned one or two things from the unexpected defeat in the final game of the previous season. If he plays all the cards right this time around, he has the resources and quality of players required to win the prestigious competition for the first time in the club's history.

- Bayern Munich: Unlike Manchester City, Bayern Munich is no stranger to the Uefa Champions League trophy, as they have won it six times, with the recent one happening two seasons ago. The club is currently in great form and one of the most dangerous teams to play against in Europe right now.

With the presence of their star striker, Robert Lewandowski, who recently won the Fifa Best Footballer Of The Year award for 2021, the club certainly shouldn't be looked upon like some pushover. Bayern Munich will undoubtedly do all within their means to win the competition again this season.

- Liverpool: If there is any club that can match the footballing prowess of both Manchester City and Bayern Munich, then it has to be Liverpool. Also, similar to Bayern Munich, Liverpool have also won the Champions League six times. The last time they won the competition was in 2019, and the quality of their team has not declined since then. Therefore, you can not rule out the possibility of them winning the competition again this season.