

Boxing: The Latest News Surrounding Logan Paul and Mike Tyson

Every year boxing fans across the world keep a lookout for bouts that are bound to be really interesting to watch and place bets on, and one fight that might or might not happen this year that certainly fits into the “worth a watch” category is one between Logan Paul and Mike Tyson. Below we are going to take a look at some of the latest news regarding this potential fight, some of the best bookmakers that are sure to offer odds for it if it were to go ahead, and provide you with some great boxing betting tips.

The Latest News on the Fight

Let us start off by taking a look at some of the latest news regarding this match up.

The Fight is Not Likely to Happen

Mike Tyson retired back in 2005 after he lost to Kevin McBride, but in 2020 he came out of retirement for an exhibition bout against Roy Jones Jr. Since this fight, Tyson has had plenty of other offers to get into the ring again, but nothing has been confirmed so far, and there is a possibility that it will stay like that.

During a recent appearance on a Podcast, Tyson said that he does not think that he would do anything like that ever again. His main reason for this is that his body cannot cope with the demands of the sport anymore, and this is fair enough because he is 55 years old now. If he was to get in a ring again it is clear that he would only be doing it for money, and with a net worth of around $10 million, it is not like he needs to put his body at risk for financial gains.

Jake Paul Would Fight Tyson

Jake Paul recently admitted that he would get into the ring with Tyson, but that no talks have been held with the boxing legend. However, Tyson said that he has no interest in having a bout with the younger Paul brother, and confirmed that there has been no negotiations between the pair.

Tyson Thinks the Paul Brothers Are Good for the Sport

Although he might not end up stepping into the ring with either of them, Tyson still feels that the Paul brothers are beneficial to the sport of boxing. This is in contrast to many boxing fans who feel that they are making a complete mockery of the sport just to make money. However, Tyson has praised them and believes that they attract a new type of audience and bring in a lot of revenue which would not have been created otherwise. He believes that they are a breath of fresh air to a sport that was stagnating.

Our prediction if the Fight Went Ahead

When Tyson stepped into the ring at the end of 2020, we were quite sceptical about the fight going ahead. Both of the fighters had really great careers, and we were not open to seeing any of them get hurt or embarrassed. However, Tyson looked pretty sharp during the fight, and were it not for an agreement that banned head shots, we think he could have knocked his opponent out.

Paul, on the other hand, impressed many by going the distance with Floyd Mayweather, but he looked tired at the halfway stage and was unsteady on his feet near the end of the eight rounds. Also, at one point, it looked like Mayweather held him up after he took a big blow.

Despite the age gap, if these two were to fight, we would not be surprised if Tyson managed to knock Paul out. So, if this fight was to go ahead at some stage, we would put our money on a Tyson knockout.

Best Bookmakers to Place Bets with If the Fight Goes Ahead

This is because any bookie worth its salt will realise just how much money there is to be made by offering a variety of markets for such a fight.

Boxing Betting Tips from Betinireland

When you are betting on any boxing fight, you can dive right in and place bets on whatever you feel like, but if this is your main tactic when betting, do not be surprised if you lose more wagers than you win. Betinireland have some great tips for betting on boxing, and we are going to have a look at some of these now.

Choose Your Wagers Wisely

Just because the bookmaker that you have signed up with has odds for a fight, it does not oblige you to place bets on it. If you want to be a successful bettor, you need to remember that it is fine not to bet on each fight, even if there is a lot of value to be had.

Additionally, a wise wager is more than just trying to win a certain amount of money, it is more about your chances of winning than the profit you could make. You could place a wager that has a profit of $1000, but if you have little to no chance of winning it, then there is no point in placing such a bet. It is better to win small amounts of profit and let it add up than to just randomly choose an underdog and hope for the best.

Leave Your Emotions out of It

Many boxing fans get attached to particular fighters, but it is vital that you bet with your head and not with your heart. There will come a time where you like a story that a promoter spins in order to sell some tickets, but you have to keep in mind that his only aim is to put bums on seat and whatever he is talking about will not have an impact on the winner of the match.

Watch plenty of Fights

To be a successful boxing betting punter, you have to find out everything that you can about the two fighters. The best and easiest way to do this is to watch a lot of fights. If you do this, you can learn about the weaknesses and strengths of the boxers, which means that when you are searching for something to bet on, you will have a good idea as to which fighter has the upper hand.

N.B. As well as boxing betting tips, Betinireland also offer their visitors in-depth predictions for big boxing matches that are coming up. We recommend that you give those a read before you go ahead and place a bet as they can help you out quite a lot.
