

Council elections 2022 – creative industries and cultural organisations publish their manifesto

Creative Edinburgh has joined a coalition of cultural organisations to publish a manifesto outlining how the sectors can be supported to sustain and enhance vibrant communities across Scotland.

Published ahead of May's local elections, the manifesto outlines how councils can support cultural recovery and benefit from the contribution that these sectors make to the economy, wellbeing and education.

Read the manifesto here

Loading...

Taking too long?

↺ Reload document

| ↗ Open in new tab

