

What to do in Benidorm in a weekend?

A weekend getaway is always a good idea, and Benidorm is the perfect destination where you can make it a reality. The beaches, the infinity of activities for the little ones in the house or the incredible nightlife of Benidorm will make you enjoy a short but intense vacation in the company of your choice, especially if you sleep in charming accommodation inspired by Mediterranean towns like Meliá Villaitana.

Take a dip on its beaches

The beaches of Benidorm will be one of the reasons why you will love this city. Some such as Levante, Poniente or Cala del Tio Ximo are famous for being one of the best beaches in the province of Alicante. Therefore, enjoying them during your weekend in Benidorm is an option that you cannot miss. At any time, they are always ready to welcome you, even if it is to walk along its banks. In addition, there are beaches for all tastes: lively, quiet, for sport, etc.

Practice water sports

In Benidorm you can enjoy a wide variety of activities in the water, such as:

- You can take a kayak route along the coast of the city where you will enjoy wonderful views and play sports in a fun and different way.
- Adrenaline can never be lacking, so a Jet Ski ride to Benidorm Island from the port or Levante Beach is a great plan.
- You can also try the only Cable Ski located in open water in the world, where your skills will be put to the test.

Enjoy its night life

Don't you know what to do in Benidorm if you decide to escape with some friends? Enjoy its incredible nightlife, of course! And there is no better plan for your weekend in Benidorm than visiting its bars, nightclubs and, if you are lucky, coinciding with one of its music festivals. To party in Benidorm, the best areas are Rincón de Loix or the pubs on Levante beach.

Visit a theme park with your little ones

However, if you are thinking of a more family getaway, you will also have a lot to do in Benidorm if you decide to come with the children. On the outskirts of the city you can enjoy amusement parks like Terra Mítica, water parks like Aqualandia, or zoos like Terra Natura. The little ones in the house will have a great time during your weekend in Benidorm!

Ride an electric bike around the city

You can get to know the city from end to end taking a fun ride on an electric bike through 130km of bike lanes, and even enter the Serra Gelada where you will find impressive views of cliffs, you can breathe fresh air and admire the beautiful and crystal clear views of the Mediterranean from heights.

Try its delicious gastronomy

Benidorm is a paradise for lovers of tapas and pinchos, you can find bars and restaurants specialized in this type of gastronomy throughout the city, however, most of them are in the Old Town, specifically on Santo Domingo street, popularly known as 'La Calle de Los Vascos'. Where you can try a variety of gastronomic delights that will delight your palate.

Release adrenaline by parasailing

Dare to get to know Benidorm from above, flying on a parasailing along the entire coast. On this walk you will be able to admire the entire city skyline, the mountains and the shore of the beach from another point of view, that of the birds. A unique and unforgettable activity that you will want to repeat every time you come back.

Take a walk

A walk along Paseo de Levante to the old town and Paseo de Poniente, or along Avenida del Mediterráneo and Parque l'Aigüera will always be an incredible option.

Photo by Attila Surányi on Unsplash