

New appointment at legal firm Vialex expands reach to financial services industry

Edinburgh-based legal services firm Vialex is broadening its offering to clients with an expansion of its legal service advisory work in the financial services industry.

It has recently welcomed experienced lawyer Scott Moncur as Head of Financial Services and Sustainable Development, a newly-created position.

Mr Moncur joins from Medici Legal Advisors, a boutique law firm specialising in digital disruption and FinTech.

Originally from Inverness, he has over three decades of financial service industry blue chip experience, gained from working throughout the UK with FTSE 100 firms as an in-house counsel, and with prominent law firms in Scotland.

Commenting on his new role, Mr Moncur said: “All sectors of the financial services industry continue to respond to the challenge to deliver products and services to meet ever-changing customer need.

“I am excited to be at Vialex and to work with clients promoting and responding to that challenge.”

Keith Anderson, Vialex chief executive officer, said: “Scott has a wealth of experience in the financial services industry, a sector which is a key focus for us, and we are delighted to welcome him to the Vialex team.

“We are ambitious to grow and develop service lines designed for specific industries in response to our clients’ needs.”
