

Where can I buy tickets for the Grand National 2022?

Photo by Philippe Oursel on Unsplash

This year's Grand National day will take place from 7 April 2022 to 9 April 2022 and tickets have been available online for several weeks. There are several options for buying tickets for the Grand National and several sites offering the possibility of purchasing them. In the meantime, tickets can be purchased for a single day or for 3 full days and this will obviously affect the price you have to pay. Tickets start at around £30 and you will have access to the festival area with fantastic live music and entertainment, food and drink and also the opportunity to see the horses around the Aintree Parade Ring. For these types of tickets children will not pay anything and in fact will be able to enter for free. There are also tickets starting at around £185, which will include the restaurant. For the same price it will be possible to buy the McCoy's package to be as close and in the heart of the action as possible at McCoy's. The Diamond Marque Princess Royal Package will be reserved for those people who wish to receive a champagne welcome, have a panoramic view of the race by being located on the fourth floor and receive special attention from the staff who will take care of you in every way. Another package called the Golden Miller Restaurant Package will be available from £445. Through this package you will be able to watch the race from your private balcony and then enjoy a three-course dinner with selected wine. The package includes: Package Includes :-

- Premier Course Admission to Earl of Derby Grandstand
- Private Balcony overlooking World Famous Grand National Course
- Parade Ring Viewing Balcony
- 4 Course Meal served with selected Wines
- Traditional Cream Tea
- Full Complimentary Bar*
- Complimentary Racecard
- Complimentary Car Parking*
- Private Tote Betting

Inc House Beer, Wine, Spirits & Softs*

Shared Tables of 10 or 12

1 car pass per booking of 4*

Dress Code – Smart Casual

Another great package at a cost of £359 is The Horse and Jockey Package which has the following options included:

- Premier Course Admission
- Balcony with views overlooking the Parade Ring and Winners Enclosure
- Lord Sefton grandstand reserved seating
- 3 course à la carte pub lunch
- Afternoon savory snacks

- All Inclusive Bar – Including House Beer, Wine, Spirits & Softs
- Jockey Club Tipster
- Complimentary racecard
- Private tote betting
- Complimentary car parking
- Shared tables of 10
- One car pass per booking of four

Dress code – smart (no jeans or sportswear)

On the official website there are many other options for tickets and other types of packages. There are also plenty of packages to suit your requirements. At the moment some tickets are already sold out as well as the car park is sold out. So that you don't miss out on all the opportunities and new tickets for the Randox Grand National Festival 2023, you can already register for when the new tickets become available. To secure seats for this great event, it is important that you buy your tickets as early as possible.