

Council elections 2022 – the results – Ward 4 – Forth

In Forth Ward there are four councillor positions and only two of those elected in 2017 are standing again – Labour's Cammy Day and Conservative Jim Campbell.

Eleanor Bird stepped down from politics and George Gordon was not reselected by the SNP.

Conservative councillor Jim Campbell was a casualty here, despite attracting 15.1% of the first preference votes. Cllr Cammy Day is the leader of the Edinburgh Labour Group which is now the second largest on the council. Whether a formal coalition or some other arrangement is made remains to be seen as “chats” between group leaders begin on Saturday.

Despite the no coalition directive from the Labour leader it seems that the local Edinburgh group leader may disregard that... pic.twitter.com/c7ZtVY6jr3

– Edinburgh Reporter (@EdinReporter) May 6, 2022

- The electorate totals 24,934
- Votes cast 10,733
- Turnout 43%

FULL ANALYSIS OF RESULTS AT FOOT OF ARTICLE

Name	Political Party	Stage elected
Cammy Day	Labour	6
Sanne Dijkstra-Downie	LibDem	3
Stuart Dobbin	SNP	5
Kayleigh O'Neill	Green	8

These are the candidates who stood in Forth Ward:

- Scottish Conservative and Unionist – CAMPBELL, Jim
- Scottish Family Party: Pro-Family, Pro-Marriage, Pro-Life – CAMPBELL, Linda Lenora
- Labour and Co-operative Party – DAY, Cammy
- Scottish Liberal Democrats – DIJKSTRA-DOWNIE, Sanne
- Scottish National Party (SNP) – DOBBIN, Stuart
- Scottish National Party (SNP) – GOOCH, Carrie
- Women's Equality Party – HEATHCOTE, Kerry Elizabeth
- Scottish Green Party – O'NEILL, Kayleigh

2017 results

In 2017 the councillors elected included:

- Eleanor Bird – Scottish National Party (SNP) – elected at stage six
- Jim Campbell – Scottish Conservative and Unionist – elected at stage one
- Cammy Day – Scottish Labour Party – elected at stage four
- George Gordon – Scottish National Party (SNP) – elected at stage eight

Electorate: 23,348

Votes cast:10,613

Turnout: 45.5%

Loading...

Taking too long?

Reload document

Open in new tab

Cammy Day re-elected to Forth Ward

Kayleigh O'Neill who has been elected as a Green councillor in Forth Ward