

Edinburgh signing for Hebridean Baker's second book

The Hebridean Baker has announced he will be in Edinburgh on 3 October to celebrate his new book, My Scottish Island Kitchen.

Coinneach MacLeod is available for interview to discuss his new book and tour. He will be visiting Waterstones West End, Princes Street, on 3 October, for an in-store book signing at 1pm.

Scotland's best-selling cookbook author of 2021 returns to serve up the best of the Hebrides. My Scottish Island Kitchen includes a fresh selection of wholesome, rustic recipes, charming stories and breath-taking photography.

Inspired by family recipes, traditional bakes and Scottish flavours, MacLeod uses local produce to showcase Scotland's extensive larder and brings us flavourful dishes with a story to tell. From Island Scones to Caledonian Cream, Posh Mince & Tatties to a Flying Scotsman, First Footers Martini to Empire Biscuits. Treats to make every Scot and lover of Scotland flock to their kitchens.
