The Director has announced that the latest film Asteroid City will be shown at Cannes in May and then released in June. Asteroid City is a science fiction romantic comedy-drama film directed and co-produced by Wes Anderson with a stellar cast including Scarlett Johansen and Brian Cranston among the less well-known. The cast list is a veritable who's who in Hollywood.

The screenplay was written by Anderson from a story by Anderson and Roman Coppola.

The film follows the transformative events that occur at an annual Junior Stargazer convention in 1955.
