

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2023 – Stay Big & Go Get ‘Em

Honest, funny and very naughty – US comedian Maggie Widdoes will take Fringe audiences on a rollercoaster ride through all her life’s ups and downs.

The international premiere of Stay Big & Go Get ‘Em marks the Edinburgh Fringe debut of a comedian and actor direct from the Los Angeles and New York improv scenes who has a growing fanbase from her comedy podcast appearances.

Self-described as a “diagnosed, dick-hungry, dead ass too-many-feelings-having human” the show is a comic deep dive of life’s realities. That includes physical and mental ill health the absurd workings of grief, fear, and lifelong horniness.

She says: “I’m taking all the harder shit that goes on life and moving it into lightness, joy and humour through a public exercise of personal alchemy.”

Based in Los Angeles but originally from Brooklyn, Maggie has been performing comedy for a decade. She’s was a house performer at The Upright Citizens Brigade Theater in both the NYC and LA and now hosts/performs in several improv and stand-up shows.

Maggie co-hosts the podcast Stinkers with James Dwyer and Caroline Cotter and previously co-hosted the improvised podcast Dead Meet with Jaime Lutz. She’s guested on several improvised and comedy based podcasts (With Special Guest Lauren Lapkus, You Know What I Would Do, Crazy; In Bed, and more).

- Venue: Just The Tonic at The Mash House, The Snifter Room (Venue 288)
- Time: 21:55
- Dates: Previews 3 & 4 August. 5-27 August
- Duration: 60 minutes
- Ticket prices: Pay what you want. Suggested £5 previews, £7 main run
- Advisory: Age 18+
- Warnings: Graphic sexual content and swearing
- Tickets: <https://tickets.edfringe.com>

