

Harlow theatre producer set to take two productions to Edinburgh Festival

AN ESSEX theatre producer is bringing not one but two shows to the Edinburgh Festival in August.

There are over 3,500 shows at the world's largest arts festival and Joel Goodman hopes that theatre goers will come to his two productions.

This musical, composed by Joel Goodman and Jan Osborne, with a new script by Joan Greening is a journey through the extraordinary life of Alan Turing.

Apple of my Eye

A one-man musical telling the story of the life of Steve Jobs. A divisive character, deemed a genius by some and hated by others.
