

Pumpkins galore at Kilduff

One of the places to go and pick a pumpkin locally is at Kilduff in East Lothian.

Photographer Phil Wilkinson went to have a look.

Buy tickets or find out more here.

Helen Wilson holds a pumpkin from the 2023 Pumpkin House at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk Picture Phil Wilkinson

Helen Wilson holds a pumpkin from the 2023 Pumpkin House at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk Picture Phil Wilkinson

Helen Wilson holds a pumpkin from the 2023 Pumpkin House at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk Picture Phil Wilkinson

Iris Gwynne Stevenson pictured having fun at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk Picture Phil Wilkinson

Iris Gwynne Stevenson pictured having fun at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk Picture Phil Wilkinson

Iris Gwynne Stevenson pictured having fun at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their

sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk Picture Phil Wilkinson

Iris Gwynne Stevenson pictured having fun at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk Picture Phil Wilkinson

Max Gibson (3)m pictured staking his claim as No 1 Pumpkin Picker picking pumpkins at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk
Picture Phil Wilkinson

Max Gibson (3)m pictured staking his claim as No 1 Pumpkin Picker picking pumpkins at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in

East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk
Picture Phil Wilkinson

Max McKellar pictured in the 2023 Pumpkin House at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk Picture Phil Wilkinson

Max Gibson (3)m pictured staking his claim as No 1 Pumpkin Picker picking pumpkins at the opening day of the Kilduff Farm Pumpkin Festival in East Lothian, Scotland. Kilduff Farm, in East Lothian, have kicked off their sixth Pumpkin Festival in

style. The family affair celebrates the very best of autumn and Russ and Lucy Calder welcomed hundreds of visitors to the farm over the weekend to pick the perfect pumpkin and provided visitors with inspiration to take their pumpkin from the patch to their kitchen to cook and eat this Halloween, as they continue their mission to reduce food waste. www.kilduff.co.uk
Picture Phil Wilkinson