

Projections of poppies light up Elizabeth Tower

Images of falling poppies were projected onto the Elizabeth Tower this evening to mark the 70th anniversary since fighting stopped in the Korean War.

Soldiers from the so-called 'Forgotten War' also appeared in the projection, as well as a quote from Hansard announcing the Korean Armistice Agreement in 1953.

Photo ©UK Parliament / Andy Bailey

©UK Parliament / Andy Bailey