

Ryanair urges passengers to book now for the best fares to the slopes

Ryanair has announced a sale on flights to the slopes with the lowest fares available to many European ski destinations this winter.

With fares starting from £29.99, this is the time to book and then take in those snowy mountain views before enjoying some much-deserved après ski.

Whether you're looking for an adventurous winter break on the slopes or a relaxing escape to a cosy log cabin in the mountains, Ryanair has you covered with the widest choice of dreamy winter destinations available. Fly to classic ski resorts in Grenoble, Basel and Turin or discover hidden gems in Tallin, Sofia and Bucharest. The ski flights are available from 11 UK airports including Edinburgh.

These fares are available for travel between 01 January-31 March 2024, so you can swap the duvet days for adventures in the snow. Book by midnight on 22 December to avoid missing out.

Ryanair's Head of Communications, Jade Kirwan, said: "Ryanair is delighted to announce its Ski Spectacular sale with the lowest fares available to Europe's best ski destinations. With fares starting from as little as £29.99 and flights from 11 UK airports there has never been a better time to book a thrilling action-packed holiday to the slopes. Book by midnight 22 December to avoid disappointment.”
