

Eddie Gripper plays The Jazz Bar next weekend

Jazz pianist Eddie will be performing with his band at The Jazz Bar in Edinburgh on 2 February. The Eddie Gripper Trio are rising to prominence as an in-demand, vibrant and enthralling jazz band and one of the most engaging live acts on the international scene.

Hailing from Oxford and now based in Cardiff, pianist, composer and educator Eddie Gripper released his debut album 'Home' on the Ubuntu Records label in March 2023. "Delightfully minimalist improvisation" brings to life the stories behind each of his thoughtful compositions.

At a very young age, Eddie Gripper has proved his innate talent. Eddie's debut album Home, has been described as "a captivating body of work that perfectly showcases the young pianist's expertise in an exquisite light".

Complimenting Eddie Gripper's skills on the piano are the creative musicians Ursula Harrison on bass and Patrick Barrett-Donlon on drums. The result is a vibrant and exciting ensemble with a palpable synergy.

Eddie Gripper and his band have performed at a wide range of leading international music venues and festivals, With many accolades from critics and gig goers alike, this is a live show not to be missed.

<https://www.thejazzbar.co.uk>

