

Live – Storm Isha

Storm Isha has arrived in Edinburgh with rain most of the afternoon and strong winds on Sunday evening.

Keep up to date here with the news we are curating about the weather. The amber weather warning was announced earlier today, which means there is an increased likelihood of impacts from severe weather, and it could potentially disrupt your travel plans. There is the possibility of travel delays, road and rail closures and the potential risk to life.