New sports betting software from GR8 Tech — honest solutions for sportsbooks review

Turnkey solutions for sportsbooks include all essential elements for stable platform functionality and high player engagement. GR8 Tech is one of the leaders in that niche, and today its products are available globally. Brand has 20 years of experience, so its betting software meets high industry requirements and standards. It offers a great range of effective options for betting platforms that can be implemented into their ecosystem at any moment. With such components and personalized recommendations, sportsbook owners can create a secure platform that players will love interacting with, and upgrade in a few clicks.

Photo by Aidan Howe on Unsplash
Offering betting products and disciplines — add classic and Esports options to your platform with GR8 Tech

GR8 Tech also actively works on the development of new products, making sure that all of them can be implemented into the sportsbook ecosystem quickly. Regular upgradation of the available settings and options can be a great advantage for businesses. GR8 tech products cover all classic and exotic sports including:

- football;
- basketball;
- hockey;
- volleyball;
- Esports;
- virtual sports, etc.!

GR8 Tech tools are customizable, which means you can change the template settings in a few clicks to make the platform more suitable for players. Turnkey solutions are simple, so even without any experience you can use them for your business. By using such tools you can manage your business more effectively to get even better results and boost players' engagement. Prematch and In-Play betting will also be included in all GR8 products for sportsbooks, so a selection of options will be impressive which will drive bettors to return to a website.

GR8 Tech instruments for sportsbooks — wide setting and over 25 000 global and local events every day

GR8 Tech is a secure partner for any size betting platform, and it already has 15 successful projects in its portfolio. The total number of available events per day can be over 25,000! These are global and local sports and Esports events that platform clients can bet on Live or pre-match. Their odds forms and line display options can be modified due to the local market needs and preferences (American view, Asian view, LATAM view, for example). Language settings, payment methods, and currencies can be customized for a specific region.

If business will select an Upgrading Package then simple access to the Education Center will be a part of such solutions. GR8 Tech has an impressive experience in both gambling and betting and today it shares it with young platforms. Businesses can use all that knowledge to improve their processes and grow bettors' engagement. At the same time, all needed information will be available in one place, which will help to save a lot of time and money. Also, registered GR8 Tech clients can get immediate answers to any questions about solutions implementation or their customization by contacting the personal manager.