

Loyal Lurcher awaits true love to blossom this Valentine's Day

Love is well and truly in the air at Dogs Trust West Calder as a sensational five-year-old Lurcher waits to meet his one true love.

With his artistic charm and boundless zest for life, Larry Longlegs is seeking an active family with which to share love, laughter and endless adventures. Dogs Trust staff say Larry is not your average pooch but a masterpiece waiting to be discovered.

Kim McNeill, Assistant Manager Administration at Dogs Trust West Calder said:-

"Larry is the life and soul of the party, always ready for a good time and plenty of snuggles. His playful approach to life keeps us entertained whether it's when teaching him new tricks or simply enjoying his company. As smart as he is adorable, Larry's eagerness to please makes him a delight to train and offers endless opportunities for fun and bonding.

"Larry is a spirited lad who is bursting with energy and creativity, making every day an exciting blank canvas on which to paint a picture with love and joy. While he may require a few visits to the centre to build a strong bond, once you've earned his trust, there's no limit to the love and fun he'll bring into your life. With his playful antics and affectionate nature, we are sure he's going to steal someone's heart this Valentine's Day and will soon be an irreplaceable member of some lucky person's family."

Just like Banksy, Larry marches to the beat of his own drum. He prefers the spotlight all to himself so is looking to be the only pet in his new love nest. As a gentle giant who adores spending time with people of all ages, he could live with children aged 14 and over.
