

Regal Tour is the latest thing

Lothian have introduced a new route – the Regal Tour – as part of its visitor bus tours around the capital.

The theme is the connection to all things royal in the city including the Palace of Holyroodhouse, the Royal Yacht Britannia and The Royal Botanic Garden Edinburgh.

The new route joins the Edinburgh Tour, and the award-winning CitySightseeing Edinburgh Tour which are all run by Lothian on a hop on hop off basis.

Sarah Boyd, Managing Director of Edinburgh Bus Tours, said: “We’re delighted to welcome visitors on board our new Regal Tour, which adds another dimension to our already fantastic five- star tour portfolio. We hope visitors to the city will take advantage of our ‘hop-on-hop-off’ tours and take the opportunity to explore our stunning capital city from the top deck. All of our tickets include excellent added value offers from key partners across the capital.

“The launch of the Regal Tour marks an exciting moment in our long history in the city of Edinburgh and we look forward to welcoming visitors on board.

“With Edinburgh Bus Tours, visitors can be confident of quality, reliability and value for money”.

Neil Christison, Regional Director at VisitScotland, said: “It’s great to see Edinburgh Bus Tours investing in the visitor experience in the city and expanding their exceptional tour offering. Edinburgh is steeped in the history of Scotland's monarchs, and recent events have shown there remains a keen fascination from visitors to our royal connections. Bus tours are a fantastic way to get around Edinburgh and help encourage visitors to explore beyond the city centre and into the bustling communities of Leith and Newhaven."

Edinburgh Bus Tours' visitors can enjoy exclusive discounts and offers to other city attractions, such as Lind and Lime Gin Distillery, Johnnie Walker Princes Street, and the Real Mary King's Close. Customers can also buy tickets for the following attractions directly from its ticket sellers and drivers:

- Edinburgh Castle
- Edinburgh Zoo
- Edinburgh Dungeon
- Dynamic Earth
