

Boroughmuir Banshees four called up by Scotland

Four members of Boroughmuir Banshees have been selected for Scotland's under-16 girls' rugby squad.

They are photographed below left to right: Connie Sanderson, Hannah Ward, Sammie Inglis and Ellen Nimmo

Both Hannah and Ellen have retained their place after being involved in the first ever under-16 national squad last year.

This is the first time Connie and Sammie have experienced regional and national selection after moving into the age group this season

Training camps have commenced and over the next few weeks the squad will be working hard in readiness for an international festival being held in Galashiels at the beginning of May.

A club spokesperson said: "All at Boroughmuir are proud to see more female players representing at international level. It is testament to the commitment from the coaches, players, parents and all involved."

For more information about getting involved with Boroughmuir Banshees contact: girlsrugby@boroughmuirsports.co.uk

The Boroughmuir quartet looking forward to representing Scotland in an international rugby festival at Galashiels in May