The decorative "cap" on the post box in Davidson's Mains crafted by locals has gone missing today.

The Ladies of Blackhall Libray Knitters have issued a plea on Facebook for its return.

A photograph of a red British Royal Mail postbox. The top of the box is covered by a large, circular, green crocheted mat. On this mat are numerous hand-knitted or crocheted Easter-themed items. These include several colorful Easter eggs (pink, white, purple, yellow), two small white chicks, a larger yellow chick, a brown bunny-like figure, a black and yellow striped bee, a chocolate egg, and various other small animals and flowers. A sign on the right side of the box reads "Send and receive money here". Below the mat, the red body of the postbox has two mail slots with labels indicating delivery times: "Monday to Friday 8.30am" and "Saturday 12 noon".
