

Brown admits: 'we weren't good enough'

Cami Brown claimed referee Seth Perkins "got it wrong" as Stellar Monarchs snatched a Superheat win at Ashfield over Allied Vehicles Tigers after the BSN Series clash ended 45-45.

Glasgow Tigers' team manager Brown claimed video evidence shows Tigers racer Chris Harris snatched a win on the line in the deciding heat.

Brown said: "It's clear that Chris got it on the line, the referee got it wrong, but, to be honest, we weren't good enough."

The team boss has told two riders that they need to up their game and he said: "We just can't get everyone firing on the same night. It's not for the lack of trying.

"It was a great meeting, but it's a results game for me. I need to get the team to win. That's my job. We've got to go to Armadale and win to qualify from the BSN group."

He added: "We're not out of it yet. We will go there fired-up."
