New menu at One Square is inspired by Edinburgh's famous authors, their words and wisdom.

One Square, The Sheraton Grand Hotel & Spa's award-winning bar and brasserie, has unveiled a unique Afternoon Tea menu inspired by Edinburgh's best storytellers and their tales. Each dish will take guests on a journey of escapism through different chapters of history inspired by Edinburgh's greatest stories, poetry and prose.

From Robert Burns to Irvine Welsh and many in between, the new afternoon tea menu draws inspiration from each storyteller's depiction of our city and each dish represents a different chapter, fact or fiction, that will leave guests wanting to return time and time again.

One Square's expert chefs have spent months researching both flavour and infamy to curate this one-of-a-kind menu. The inventive menu consists of everything from Robert Burns' Haggis Bon Bons with soured neeps chutney, to Irvine Welsh's Lind & Lime Gin cured salmon, citrus brioche and smoked poppy seeds. Edinburgh's Robert Louis Stevenson's Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde is represented on the new menu through a flavour-changing cucumber based sandwich with both hot and cooler taste profiles.

Other storytellers found on the sweet section of the menu are J.K Rowling and a wizard inspired Jelly Bean tart, Arthur

Conan Doyle's raspberry cranachan and an ode to Rob Roy with a dark chocolate sweet vermouth-laced sponge.

From £59 per person, guests can enjoy One Square's afternoon tea from 12:30pm-5:00pm, Wednesday to Saturday. Vegan, vegetarian and gluten-free options are available upon request.

Nick Durham, Director of Food and Beverage at The Sheraton Grand Hotel & Spa, explains: "Edinburgh – the world's first UNESCO city of literature – is home to some of the greatest storytellers in the world, past and present. At One Square, we're proud to have Scotland, and its stories, at the heart of everything we do. We wanted to create a menu that reflects and celebrates our deep-rooted culture and creativity. We've had a lot of fun designing our Afternoon Tea and believe the end result is unmatched and like no other.

"Whether you're looking to celebrate a special occasion or simply fancy a relaxed afternoon with friends, there really is something for everyone to enjoy."
