

Take a Trip to the Sunniest Cities in Spain

If you're sick and tired of the rain in the UK, then perhaps it's time for a holiday. There's nothing worse than escaping your city and landing somewhere else and it's raining. Therefore to prevent this, discover the sunniest cities in Europe, and choose one for your summer destination, so you can almost guarantee sunshine for your whole trip.

Spain is full of incredible culture and delicious food. It's the perfect destination that's just a short flight from the UK. This makes it the perfect getaway destination. Here are some of the sunniest cities in Spain.

Photo by Patrick Baum on Unsplash

Malaga

(Average sunshine: 280.2 hours per month)

Malaga is located in southern Spain, on the Costa del Sol. This is an extremely popular destination for many tourists, with something for everyone. Beautiful beaches to relax on, as well as an incredible party scene for anyone looking to let loose. Malaga is also home to incredible attractions such as the Picasso Museum and the Alcazaba Fortress.

Alicante

(Average Sunshine: 280.0 hours per month)

Alicante is another extremely popular destination that practically guarantees sunshine all year round. Alicante is the perfect mix of beaches and culture. Tourists can take a walk down the Explanada de España promenade and get a taste of some of the incredible cuisine that's on offer. If you're looking for a different perspective, visit the Santa Barbara Castle for panoramic views of the city. The warm climate and friendly locals make this the perfect place to relax and immerse in the rich culture Alicante has to offer.

Murcia

(Average Sunshine: 277.7 hours per month)

This is a hidden gem in Spain, also known as the "orchard of Europe". Murcia is located in southeastern Spain. This is an exciting destination that not many tourists visit, which can provide a more authentic experience for visitors. Murcia is a great destination for anyone who is looking for more of a city break, with the chance to explore the incredible architecture and learn about the history of the city. Plan and visit the Cathedral of Murcia, stroll through the Plaza de las Flores or even visit the Terra Natura wildlife park. This is a destination with plenty to do while enjoying the sunshine and warm climate.

Seville

(Average Sunshine: 273.9 hours per month)

This is another extremely popular destination for tourists. Seville is the capital of Andalusia and is known for its incredible Moorish architecture, vibrant flamenco scene and delicious tapas. This is the perfect place to explore while also letting loose. Make sure to visit the stunning Alcazar Palace and the Seville Cathedral. A great way to catch some of Seville's incredible sun is by taking a boat ride along the Guadalquivir River. Once the sun is down, make sure you embrace some of the culture and experience some of the iconic flamenco dancing.

Cordoba

(Average Sunshine: 268.5 hours per month)

This is another perfect sunny destination for any history enthusiasts. Cordoba is a historic city in Andalusia that comes with a rich cultural heritage. With incredible attractions to visit such as the Mezquita-Catedral, the Jewish Quarter and the Roman Bridge. There's plenty to explore all while basking in the sun. Cordoba is known for its stunning architecture and friendly locals. This is a great place to fully immerse yourself in the Spanish culture.

In summary, if you're looking to escape the rain and find a destination that's going to practically guarantee you sunshine, then these Spanish cities are the perfect option for you. Spain has so much to offer and an incredible culture to immerse yourself in. So next time you're booking a trip, make sure to consider these incredible cities.

- Requirements
- Share article

	Order ID	34255
	Orderlink ID	156172
	Link	theedinburghreporter.co.uk
	Language	English
	Malaga is crowned the sunniest city
	https://www.holidu.co.uk/f/airbnbs...

Download