

C'mon Scotland! Edinburgh fans hoping for a win in Cologne

Scots will be holding their breaths tonight when the Scotland team kick off against Switzerland at Cologne Stadium at 9pm local time.

After the awful result on Friday when the team were routed by Germany 5-1, fans are hoping for something much better tonight.

Ryan Porteous was given a red card during the match reducing the team to ten men and will be unavailable on Wednesday as he has been given a two match suspension.

The match will be broadcast live on BBC One beginning from 7.30pm with presenter Gabby Logan, and commentary from Steve Bower and James McFadden.

Fans in Edinburgh include these wee dogs who are all right behind the team tonight hoping for a great result. No Scotland No Party!

The dogs are supporting Scotland for the next game in the Euros. Bertie is a two-year-old Cavapoo PHOTO Alan Simpson 18/6/2024

Dogs supporting Scotland for the next game in the Euros on Wednesday. Alfie is a three-year-old French Bulldog
PHOTO Alan Simpson 18/6/2024

Midge is a three and a half-year-old cross Bedlington/Whippet.

PHOTO Alan Simpson 18/6/2024

Ozzie is a four-year-old Spaniel and is supporting Team Scotland on Wednesday.

PHOTO Alan Simpson 18/6/2024

Eleven-year-old Pomchi or Pomeranian Chihuahua, Delilah is right behind Scotland.

Owner Sharon King said "Let's hope she brings us good luck."

PHOTO Alan Simpson 18/6/2024

Eleven-year-old Pomchi or Pomeranian Chihuahua, Delilah is right behind Scotland.

PHOTO Alan Simpson 18/6/2024

Delilah is a Pomeranian Chihuahua or Pomchi, aged 11.
PHOTO Alan Simpson 18/6/2024