

Concert-goers advised to use alternative route to Murrayfield due to road closure

Police in Edinburgh are advising fans attending tonight's Taylor Swift concert at Murrayfield Stadium to avoid the Westfield Road area.

Westfield Road is currently closed between Stevenson Road and Gorgie Road, following a report of concern for a man at a property, which was reported at 12.55pm on Friday, 7 June.

Officers are at the scene and enquiries to establish the circumstances are ongoing.

A Police Scotland spokesperson said: "Please avoid the area. Drivers and concert-goers are urged to use alternative routes."
