

Dog of the week – Jarvis

Meet Jarvis, a charming 8-year-old crossbreed, whose friendly and playful nature is sure to win hearts. He is currently seeking a loving home where he can be the centre of attention as the only pet in the household.

Jarvis is a social butterfly who will make friends with everyone wherever he goes. He's full of energy and enjoys exploring and investigating during his walks. While he's super playful, he can be a bit nervous around other dogs, so he thrives on walks in peaceful and quiet areas.

Car rides are an exciting prospect for Jarvis, as he's always ready for new adventures. At home, he's a toy enthusiast, often parading his favourite teddy in his mouth or inviting you for a game with his bouncy ball. In the garden, he's a true ball-chasing champion, and he could spend hours playing with his beloved toys.

Jarvis's affectionate side shines through most when he's with his people. He loves hopping on the sofa for a cozy cuddle or a belly scratch at the end of the day.

He's fully house trained and can be left alone for up to four hours, although he would prefer someone to be home most of the time for companionship.

If you think you could provide a home for Freya or any of the 40 dogs currently available for rehoming, please contact Dogs
