

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2024 – Christopher Biggins is back

Fringe at Prestonfield will star Christopher Biggins in his role as host of the chat show, with some cabaret and family events thrown in.

Last year the season was a first, and now the invitation list is even longer, with bigger stars than ever.

Lulu, Janet Street-Porter, Jasper Carrot and Alistair McGowan will join Su Pollard, Janey Godley, The Barricade Boys, Hayley Mills, Stephen K Amos, and Dame Maureen Lipman for a laugh with Biggins.

Christopher Biggins said: “I am thrilled to be back in Edinburgh this year with The Fringe at Prestonfield. Last year we had a sensational season, and so excited to meet all the fabulous guests we have lined up for August.”

James Thomson, owner of Prestonfield House said: “The Edinburgh Festival Fringe is one of the greatest celebrations of arts and culture on the planet, it takes place every August. Following the huge success of the inaugural “Fringe at Prestonfield” last year, we are thrilled yet again to host “The Fringe at Prestonfield” from Friday 16th – Sunday 25th August 2024 in our amazing setting at Prestonfield House.

“Hosted by the wonderful Christopher Biggins, who requests your pleasure for another fantastic season of comedy, cabaret, and chat with some very special guests. Join us throughout “The Fringe at Prestonfield” and enjoy an array of refreshments including Champagne, Pimms, Pizza, Ice Cream and much more in our own “Fringe Garden” or make a day of it and book Lunch or Dinner in Rhubarb or enjoy our Summer Afternoon Tea in one of our drawing rooms or on the lawn before you attend the shows. Everyone is welcome to join our festival celebrations”.

www.fringeatprestonfield.co.uk

Christopher Biggins appearing at Prestonfield House during Fringe 2023 PHOTO ©2023 The Edinburgh Reporter