

General Election 2024 – David Henry – Independent candidate Edinburgh West

David Henry is standing as an independent candidate in Edinburgh West. This Saturday at 12pm he will officially launch his campaign and publish his election address.

The campaign will be delivered to around 48,600 households in the next week or so and the message is “Vote to end the Party Political Merry Go Round” by electing an independent MP who only answers to the constituents. No more party whips. A more honest form of democracy.

When asked why people should vote for him Mr Henry said: “The party system no longer works for ordinary people, party politicians lack the courage to do the right thing as the party whips won’t let them. As an independent MP I will have no party whip telling me how to vote I will only listen to my constituents.”

“I am the only candidate to give a clear answer on protecting women’s rights, I am the only candidate that has offered a clear course of action on reducing energy bills and getting households and small businesses some of their money back. I have also addressed a growing issue for pensioners who are being taxed on their pension income over £12,571, which is not right. They have already paid tax when they were working and paying into their pensions. That’s why in Edinburgh West voters should vote for me as their independent MP.”

David Henry has made five key pledges:

- Protecting Women's Rights.
- Supporting Pensioners
- Supporting Parents Rights
- Regulating Energy Bills
- Supporting Scottish Independence

He will launch his campaign at the Street Stall on Saturday 15 June 2024 between 12-2pm on St John's Road Corstorphine EH12 8AX.

Dear Constituent

I'm standing in this election as an independent candidate for Edinburgh West and I'm hoping you'll take a few minutes to let me to introduce myself. I am Local, I live 1 mile from the constituency, I went to the local schools. I know and care about the community and I care deeply about improving the area.

Experienced

A former DJ, Pub Landlord, media entrepreneur and business man, today I am pursuing a new media venture for Scotland. I currently make a music TV programme called "Blast From The Past". Politically, I was a campaigning member of both the SNP and Alba parties and have written party policies including Alba's, "Men Must Support Equality" and "Empowering Parents and Protecting Children".

I am a director of the not-for-profit think tank, The Sovereignty Research Group Ltd, which continues to research and publish material on a fair and democratic future for Scotland.

I am also a carer for my elderly mum. So I know first-hand the struggles faced by carers in Scotland and just how urgent it is to improve social care services and support.

Principled

I support women's equality and a change to the Equality Act 2010 so that the protected characteristic of "Sex" is clearly defined as biological sex in law.

I am committed to the rights of parents to consent to or refuse permission for controversial teaching material, especially for young children. Parents are entitled to protect their children from age inappropriate or harmful content such as explicit sexual material and gender ideology and I will fight for the rights of carers and those in need of care.

If elected, I will work with other parties and politicians to change the law on energy regulation. I will put forward a Bill to prohibit above inflation energy bill rises, reverse the price rises and force energy companies to refund any past, excessive charges to Householders & small businesses. I fully support Scotland becoming a modern, independent European democracy. So I will support your right to have a democratic vote on Scotland's independence.

I am Independent

Today, the party system no longer works; party politicians lack the courage we urgently need because parties fear losing votes. Isn't it time for representatives who answer to their constituents, not to political party whips? If you agree that's a truer, more honest kind of democracy, please vote for me to become your independent MP.

Yours

David Henry

I pledge that I will:

- 1 Support and vote for a change to the Equality Act 2010 to clarify that the protected characteristic of "Sex" will mean biological sex. Therefore protecting women's rights to single sex spaces and services. The LibDems, Labour, SNP & Scottish Greens do not support women's rights and are all committed to allow dangerous Self ID to become law.
- 2 Support removing income tax for pensioners for the first £25,000 per year of earnings. This would be an increase from the current £12,571 level. It would cost the exchequer £2,485 per pensioner who earns up to £25,000 per year. This could easily be funded by a small rise in the top level of income tax to 45%.
- 3 Support a change in the law to empower parents rights over their children's education. Parents views are often ignored by educators and I will support parents rights. Parents should have to give their informed consent before their child are taught controversial subjects.
- 4 I will place a Private Members Bill in the House of Commons to reintroduce a price fixing mechanism on energy supplies. Ofgem the regulator will have to limit any price rises to no more than 3% above inflation once every three years and force a refund to every consumer/small business that was not based on a rise in production costs. A windfall tax that only benefits real people like you.
- 5 I fully support Scotland being a modern democratic European country. I also believe it cannot be right for any government to refuse a nation a democratic vote on such an important issue. So I will support Scotland holding a vote or referendum on Scotland's independent future. I hope to see the economic case being made without delay. Its a yes from me.
