

Hibs 2024/25 league campaign starts with away game against St Mirren

Hibs will begin their 2024/25 William Hill Premiership campaign away at St Mirren on Sunday 4 August – with a 3pm kick-off.

The match has been scheduled for the Sunday due to St Mirren competing in Europe.

Hibs first home game at Easter Road will take place the following week, when they host Celtic on Sunday 11 August.

That match has been selected for live broadcast on Sky Sports with a 12:30pm kick-off.

The first Edinburgh Derby will take place at Easter Road on Saturday 26 October, with Hibs making the trip to Tynecastle on Boxing Day, and the two sides also meeting on Saturday 1 March, 2025.

Over the festive period, the club will play three games in the space of a week – starting with the Edinburgh Derby on Boxing Day at Tynecastle.

That match has been selected for broadcast on Sky Sports, kick-off at 12:30pm on Thursday 26 December.

The final game of the year will see Hibs host Kilmarnock on Sunday 29 December, with David Gray's men kicking off the New Year away to St Johnstone on Thursday 2 January, 2025.

In a change to previous years, there will be no Winter Break for the 2024/25 campaign, with fixtures scheduled all the way through January until the end of the season.

Our final match before the split is against Dundee at Easter Road on Saturday 12 April.

Supporters should bear in mind that this is a provisional fixture list, with all fixtures subject to change and broadcast selections to be made throughout the season.

The only confirmed broadcast fixtures so far are:

Sunday 11 August, 2024 – Hibernian vs Celtic (12:30 kick-off)

Thursday 26 December, 2025 – Heart of Midlothian vs Hibernian (12:30 kick-off)

The full fixture list is available on the club's website.
