

Kirsty Morrison signs one-year contract extension with Hibs Women

Kirsty Morrison has signed a one-year contract extension with Hibs Women.

Morrison made her 100th appearance for the Club last season and marked the occasion by wearing the captain's armband for the Scottish Cup match against Rangers.

Returning from injury in the second half of the 23/24 season, Morrison came into her own, scoring the opening goal in the mammoth 10-0 Scottish Cup victory against St Johnstone, also netting in an emphatic 7-0 victory against Aberdeen in the SWPL.

Contributing a further five assists to the team in the last campaign, she proved herself to be a valuable asset for Grant Scott's side.

The number 29 made her first team debut in 2019 after spending over a decade at the club, progressing through the Girls Academy.

On her new extension, Morrison was delighted to extend her stay at the club: "I'm thrilled to continue my journey with Hibernian. The support from the Club and the fans has been great, and I look forward to contributing to the team for the upcoming season."

I've been at this club for a long time, so I'm looking forward to another year and looking forward to what that brings."

Grant Scott commented on having Morrison for the 24/25 season saying: "Securing Kirsty for another year is a testament to her exceptional talent and dedication to the team.

Her commitment and consistent performances have been invaluable following her return from injury, and we're pleased to have her continue to be a vital part of the squad."
