

New pass is good for golfers

Edinburgh Leisure is launching a new short-term golf pass allowing visitors to the city and residents to play their six world-class courses without having to take out an annual membership.

As the city's largest sports and leisure provider in the city, Edinburgh Leisure has six courses to choose from each offering unique challenges and stunning city views and a truly Scottish golfing experience to locals and visitors alike. With views of Arthur's Seat, the Firth of Forth or atop the iconic Braid Hills. they even have First Tees just minutes from the city centre or within walking distance of a tram stop.

A 3-day weekend pass costing £35 or 7-day golf pass costing £75 allows access to all of Edinburgh Leisure's six golf courses at Braid Hills, Carrick Knowe, Craigentenny, Portobello, Wee Braids and Silverknowes golf courses.

The new Golf Pass is available to buy at any Edinburgh Leisure golf club and online. Choose your preferred club to receive details –

<https://www.edinburghleisure.co.uk/activities/golf>

