

Police thank public for sharing appeal as missing 72-year-old man traced

A 72-year-old man reported missing from Edinburgh has been traced according to police.

Officers issued an appeal last night to help find Gary Hardie, who had been last seen in the Mountcastle Loan area of Edinburgh around 6.20pm on Wednesday, 19 June, 2024.

Earlier today police thanked the public for sharing their appeal.

A Police Scotland spokesperson said: "72-year-old Gary Hardie missing from Edinburgh has been traced.

"Thanks for the likes and shares."
